This is a great opportunity to get a peek at the skills the campers worked on during the week. It will be a great way to see how the fundamentals are being taught so these exercises can be used throughout the summer.

What to Expect From Camp

The camp is designed to teach basic and advanced skills of basketball according to age and ability. Emphasis is placed on fundamentals with a great amount of personal instruction from the coaching staff and players. Our goal is to give individual attention on each of the basketball fundamentals. The camp does have space limitations and all campers need to pre-register.

Camp Director

Pat Lepper, Head Coach at Lincoln College, has been coaching for six years at different collegiate levels. The Lynx finished the 2012-2013 season with a record of 18-14. They also placed 4th overall in conference play while falling 1 game short of the Region Championship. The Lynx lost 8 games by 6 points or less and feel they have gained valuable experience for such a young team. "We are really looking forward to the next season." The Lynx's will be hosting the Region 24 Tournament in 2014.

"Lincoln College Basketball Camp is here! We are extremely excited to reconnect with the returning campers and meet new participants. I believe in developing the love for the game at a young age. This camp will allow your child or children to develop the passion for the game of basketball. I look forward to meeting you at camp!"

Camp Coach

Tanner Morris, Assistant Coach Lincoln College. As a young, energetic coach, Morris has been around the game of basketball his entire life, as his father (Bob Morris, Lincoln College class of 1972) was an NCAA Division I coach at Illinois State University. Morris' other coaching experience includes working Illinois State University basketball camps, assistant coach at the junior high level and two years as an assistant girls coach at University High School. Morris has worked at the Midwest Collegiate basketball camp where he helped lead individual workouts for several D-I basketball players. In 2010, Coach Morris was an assistant coach at Howard College in Texas where they won the 2010 National Tournament, and then came to Lincoln College and was apart of the 2011 National Championship as well. At Lincoln College, Morris was fortunate enough to work with Florida State center and Lincoln College Alum, Kiel Turpin.

"I am looking forward to seeing a lot of familiar faces at camp this summer, as well many new faces."
