

LINCOLN COLLEGE

Chartered Lincoln University, 1865

Lincoln, Illinois

151st ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT

SATURDAY, MAY 5, 2018

12:30 P.M. C.D.T.

Lincoln Center

Lincoln Ill. March 4th 1865

His Excellency A. Lincoln
President of the United States,

Dear Sir

By request of the President of the Board of Trustees of Lincoln University, whose address this will accompany, I write to inform you more fully of the University and of the prosperity of our town. Believing you ~~will~~ feel a lively interest in it, on account of its being named for you before Presidential honors had any influence, Lincoln contains about twenty eight hundred inhabitants. Houses are going up almost daily, and it is expected that there will be from ^{one} to two hundred dwelling houses go up this season. Mostly of a good quality. Business has increased fully in proportion to the inhabitants. Our people although not very wealthy, are very enterprising, and are very anxious, in fact determined to make the University a success. Messrs. Wyatt & Little & I donated ten acres of land. That we were offered six thousand dollars for, and three thousand dollars in cash to it. several other persons one thousand each, and nearly all the citizens something. The friends of the Town propose to build one wing of the building, and the church propose to build and endow it with $200,000, as soon as $100,000 endowment fund is raised. They to go on and finish the buildings. The school to commence is soon as this wing of the building is completed and $50,000 endowment fund is raised.

Our greatest difficulty will be to get sufficient funds to build a house that will do justice to the name and place.

Hoping that we will have the pleasure of seeing you in our own beloved Illinois ere the summer passes,

I am very respectfully
Your obedient servant
R B Latham

Facsimile of a letter written by Colonel Robert B. Latham to President Abraham Lincoln on March 4, 1865.

Copy of the original obtained from the Library of Congress and presented to Lincoln College by D. F. Nickols.

* LINCOLN COLLEGE ALMA MATER

Lincoln College, alma mater; Who through cherished ages past
Gives unto each son and daughter; Learning, savored to the last
Loyal ever, onward yearning; Knowledge in thy halls enshrined

Lincoln College, alma mater; Now we honor true and kind
Lincoln College, alma mater; Now we honor true and kind

Known as the Emancipator; Lincoln did set all men free
At his namesake college, greater; Knowledge stems from liberty
Like itself reveals a treasure; Seek the truth and wisdom find

HONORARY DEGREES

In harmony with the ideals of simplicity, sincerity, and high achievement forever associated with Abraham Lincoln, Lincoln College, in recognition of its name and chartered status as a university, periodically awards honorary degrees to individuals whose accomplishments and character are such as might have been admired by Mr. Lincoln himself.

Doctor of Fine Arts

Richie Gajate Garcia
Percussionist; Drummer; Educator;
Author; and Mentor

Sponsor

Donald R. Ludwig
Trustee, Lincoln College

Richie Gajate Garcia is one of the world's most in-demand percussionists and educators. He is the author of four instructional music books and is a faculty instructor at the Musician's Institute in Hollywood where he has taught for 15 years. Richie has recorded and/or performed with Phil Collins, Sting, Frankie Valli, Stevie Wonder, Don Henley, and Ritchie Sambora, as well as worked on award winning film scores. He has also toured with Diana Ross, Patti LaBelle, John Denver, and Hiroshima. His career has taken him around the world, performing at such venues as Madison Square Garden, the Royal Albert Hall, The Hollywood Bowl, and the Mt. Fuji Jazz Festival stage in Japan, while also teaching internationally. Recently, Richie has had the unique privilege of guesting multiple times on NBC's The Voice. Instrumentally, Richie invented the popular Gajate Bracket and collaborated on the Richie Gajate Garcia Signature Series Congas, Bongos, and Djembe.

Doctor of Humane Letters

Alex "Sandy" MacKinnon
Successful Businessman; Recognized Community Member;
and Distinguished Philanthropist

Sponsor

John D. Blackburn
Trustee, Lincoln College

Alex D. "Sandy" MacKinnon graduated from Lincoln College in 1960. He is a successful businessman and the former owner and CEO of MacKinnon Equipment & Services. Using a customer-focused approach and following the highest ethical standards, Sandy transformed a failing dealership into a highly successful firm with five locations in Florida and Georgia. Throughout his career Sandy received dozens of awards, but he takes particular pride in two that exemplify strong character traits – the H.L. Culbreath, Jr. profile in leadership award and the Tampa Bay Ethics Award, presented by the University of Tampa Center for Ethics. As an involved business leader and community member, Sandy MacKinnon has been essential to multiple projects in the Tampa Bay area, including the Raymond James Stadium, the home of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

Sandy received the Lincoln College Alumni Achievement Award in Business at Reunion Weekend in 2007. During his award acceptance, Sandy recalled the supportive education he received when he first entered Lincoln College in 1958. The evening he received his award, he returned the support given to him by making a significant surprise gift to support the campaign to build the Lincoln Center. Since then, MacKinnon has also established The MacKinnon Family Endowed Scholarship. Lincoln College is deeply grateful for all Sandy MacKinnon has given back to this College and his community.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The origins of academic dress date back to the 12th and 13th centuries, when universities were taking form. The ordinary dress of the scholar, whether student or teacher, was the dress of a cleric. With few exceptions, the medieval scholar had taken at least minor orders, made certain vows, and perhaps been tonsured. Long gowns were worn and may have been necessary for warmth in unheated buildings. Hoods seem to have served to cover the tonsured head until superseded for that purpose by the skull cap.

A statute of the University of Coimbra in 1321 required that all “Doctors, Licentiates, and Bachelors” wear gowns. In England, in the second half of the 14th century, the statutes of certain colleges forbade “excess in apparel” and prescribed the wearing of a long gown. In the days of Henry VIII of England, Oxford and Cambridge first began prescribing a definite academic dress and made it a matter of university control even to the extent of its minor details.

A uniform code for caps, gowns, and hoods to be worn in the United States was introduced in 1893. The mortarboard caps are the same for doctoral, master’s, and baccalaureate degrees, except that doctors’ caps may be of velvet and may have a gold tassel. The bachelor’s gown is marked by pointed sleeves, reaching to the knee, while the master’s sleeve is squared at the ends and longer. The doctoral robe is fullest, with rounded bell shaped sleeves marked by three velvet stripes.

The greatest symbolism of the academic costume is borne by the hood, which identifies the level of the degree, the faculty (or department of learning) in which it was earned, and the institution which awarded it. The size of the hood, its shape, and the width of its velvet trim identify the level of the degree, with doctoral hoods naturally being the fullest, widest, and longest. Faculty colors tell us the department. Faculty members in the processional may be wearing light blue for education, copper for economics, drab for business and accountancy, orange for engineering, purple for law, lemon for library science, green for medicine, apricot for nursing, dark blue for philosophy, sage green for physical sciences, cream for social sciences, and scarlet for theology, among the many available. The colors are mandatory on hoods, but may also be used on the tassels and/or the velvet on doctoral gowns. The university or college is usually identified by the color of the hood lining.

THE COLLEGE MACE

The Mace Bearer carries the mace which is a symbol of the College’s authority. Their purpose is to defend the President of the College. The Mace Bearer must always be in sight of the President. The presence of the mace indicates the college faculty is present to conduct formal business.
