

A photograph of a wooden building with a large tree in the foreground, serving as a background for the text. The building has several windows and a door. The tree is large and has many bare branches. The overall scene is in black and white.

Building
trades students
learning more than just skills

Story and Photos by Jan Youngquist